DETAILED ACTION

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the stock rail and the movable switch point must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Figures 8-11 are also objected to for not containing any part numbers to show the various parts of the drawings.

Figures 8-11 are also objected to since they appear to be identical. It is unclear as to what features are being shown in these drawings.

Figures 12-21 are also objected to since they appear to be identical. It is unclear as to what features are being shown in these drawings.

Figures 22-24 are also objected to since they appear to be the same drawings as figures 8-11. It is unclear as to what features are being shown in these drawings.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 4-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 4 recites "the second movable part of the flanks is adjustable in continuous fashion". It is unclear as to what is meant by a "continuous fashion" of adjustment. This leaves the claim vague and indefinite.

Claim 5 recites "the second movable part of the flanks is adjustable in a discrete fashion". It is unclear as to what is meant by a "discrete fashion" of adjustment. This leaves the claim vague and indefinite.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-6 and 10-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Humphrey et al (US 5,501,418).

Humphrey et al discloses a sliding device for railway switches comprised of a fixed rail 200 and a movable point rail 204. The point rail 204 is movable between an active position close to the stock rail and an inactive position where it is spaced from the stock rail and does not redirect a vehicle. The device is further comprised of a support structure, generally shown in figure 1 with the stock and point rails removed. Figure 1 shows a general support structure having a mounting bar 56 for attaching the structure to adjacent railroad ties, as shown in figure 6. A pair of upright flanks 14, 16 extend outward from the support bar and serve as mounting points for rail clip 44. The rail clip 44 firmly connects the structure to the stock rail. The clip is adjustable and movable by loosening or tightening the bolts mounted on either side of the clip as well as the bolt on the clip. A plurality of rollers 108a, b, c are mounted in the support structure and support the point rail as it moves towards away from the stock rail during switching operations. The rollers are mounted on two interior walls or flanks, shown in cross section with dashed line in figure 2 and from above in figure 3. A bolt is passed through the flanks and the outer support structure. The flanks are adjustable by removing the securing bolt 104, 106 and moving the flanks relative to the support structure.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 7-9 and 13-16 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
